SEPTEMBER 2014

Built in 1893, this was originally the home of the Trinity Methodist Church. In 1957, it became home to the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, which sold the building in 1961 to Friends Meeting of Washington for a preparative meeting under its care. Langley Hill Friends became a member Monthly Meeting of Baltimore Yearly Meeting in 1969. The building has undergone several renovations over the years.

DECEMBER 2014

In 1944, the Hicksite Baltimore Friends sold their Meeting House on Park Avenue in Baltimore. They began meeting for worship on the campus of Baltimore Friends School and adopted the name Baltimore Monthly Meeting of Friends, Stony Run. This building, adjacent to the Friends School Campus, was built in 1949.

APRIL 2015

Little Falls Friends Meeting was founded in 1738 by William Amos who discovered Quaker worship in nature. On a walk through a woods, he sat to rest on a log and felt he was having a worship experience. He invited others to join him, and they too had a feeling of worship there. The Little Falls Meeting House was built on the site where William Amos discovered Quaker worship for himself.

This Meeting House was designed and built particularly to accommodate President Herbert Hoover, a Quaker. The President and his wife, Lou Henry Hoover, attended the first Meeting for Worship held January 4, 1931. The First Lady was present at the laying of the cornerstone. Secret Service arrangements were less formidable then.

Woodlawn Meeting House, Fort Belvoir VA

Built in 1853 by Friends seeking to establish a farming community with free labor in a slave state, this Meeting House was alternately in the territory of the North and the South during the Civil War. Graffiti from Civil War soldiers still can be seen on the building's siding. When the Meeting in Old Town Alexandria was laid down in the 1940's, this became the Alexandria Meeting at Woodlawn.
